allows us to think about JOB IN THE BIBLE and how even in faith we are tested and we are all tested in own own pieces of our lives and it reminds us that faith is beauty and even a rose dies and when our earlyly time is up here we move on to live our orginal purpose and that is to be called home to dwell in his almighty presence for eternity when we complete our purpose in life our father brings us home Willi and drew were loved by us by the reads characters she created and we all morn for the loss of of loved ones but but when the fulfillment is complete its not despare we should see but the beauty in the breaking and the glory in knowing they live on in a much safer and loving place forever and when people say dont morn for my throw a party its impossible for ones loved ones to feel and follow thru with those wishes for we LOVED THEM but knowing and feeling are two different things just like the head and the heart Willie and Drew live on in their hearts forever not forgotten and i think thats what Jeannette oaks is tryin to express life is just that life and she tried to capturethe prairie days and true as life seems to happen for real in her books as truth and reality instead of fantasy and fairy tales Rhonda i hope that helps with a possible clearer picture of the story and ur sadness over the loss of Willie and drew.. Thank you for your help, it was greater then I knew
